“ It was a long driveway Mark had left in front of me his tail lights disappeared over the hill so I had no reason to believe he wasn't on the driveway anymore he had crossed the road ran through the fence and I followed right behind him nobody was injured there's a fence that needed repair the next morning when I showed up to help fix the fence Mark was surprised he told me yeah I know I mentioned it to you we had to fix the fence but the fence was mostly gone after I went through I didn't expect you'd come to help after some time passed we both were able to laugh at this incident time and time again throughout the years. Mark he will be missed no doubt about it
